THE CLASS OF 1951

Formerly of Central Catholic

PORTLAND, OREGON

The Classes of '52, '53, '54
Catholic Central
Portland, Oregon
Dear Undergraduates:

After having observed you during our stay at Central, we the 51'ers, are firmly assured that you are better than able to carry the high standards set by us and preceeding classes. The task will be difficult but we know that you will aim for higher goals.

Remember always that Men of Central are true Christian gentlemen, not only in name but in every action, whether it be in the classroom, on the athletic field or in your own homes.

The Man of Central is the man who has the courage to do the right thing, not because he has to, but because he wants to.

Filled with this spirit, you will find the way to spiritual, scholastic, social and athletic success much easier.

Finally, we beg of you as loyal followers of Christ the King that you follow your Leader as His devoted subjects. Pray to Him faithfully that you may receive every grace that you need to reach God the Father, in Eternal Life.

Trustingly Yours in Christ,

To gain a well-rounded education, a student must include social activities in his curriculum. Being a creature among fellow creatures, a Centralite must learn not only to live with others, but also to be happy with them. Thus together do we work out our salvation.

Social life at Central is not the school's primary objective; but as a complement to the family, Central helps its students to plan together, to work together and to enjoy its fruits together. Alone, or jointly with other schools, men of Christ the King, learn to live for Christ with their fellow men.

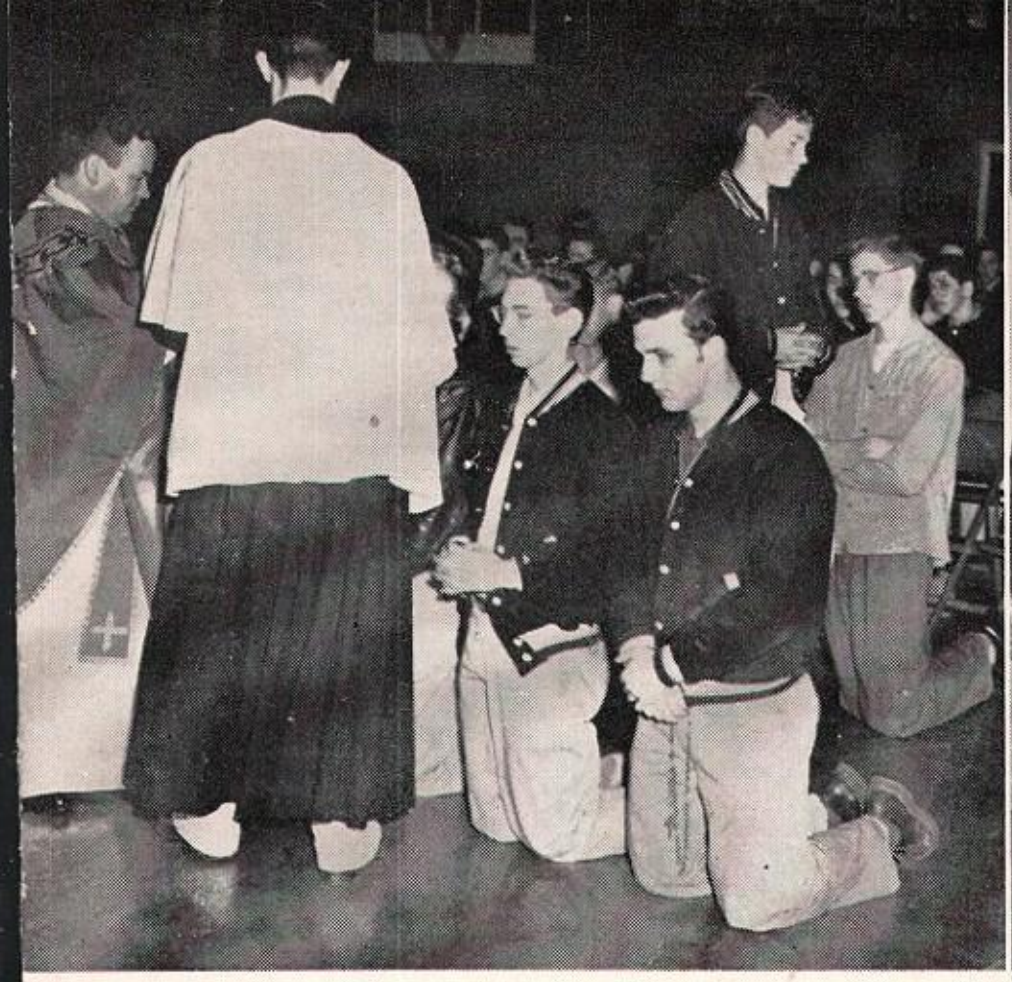
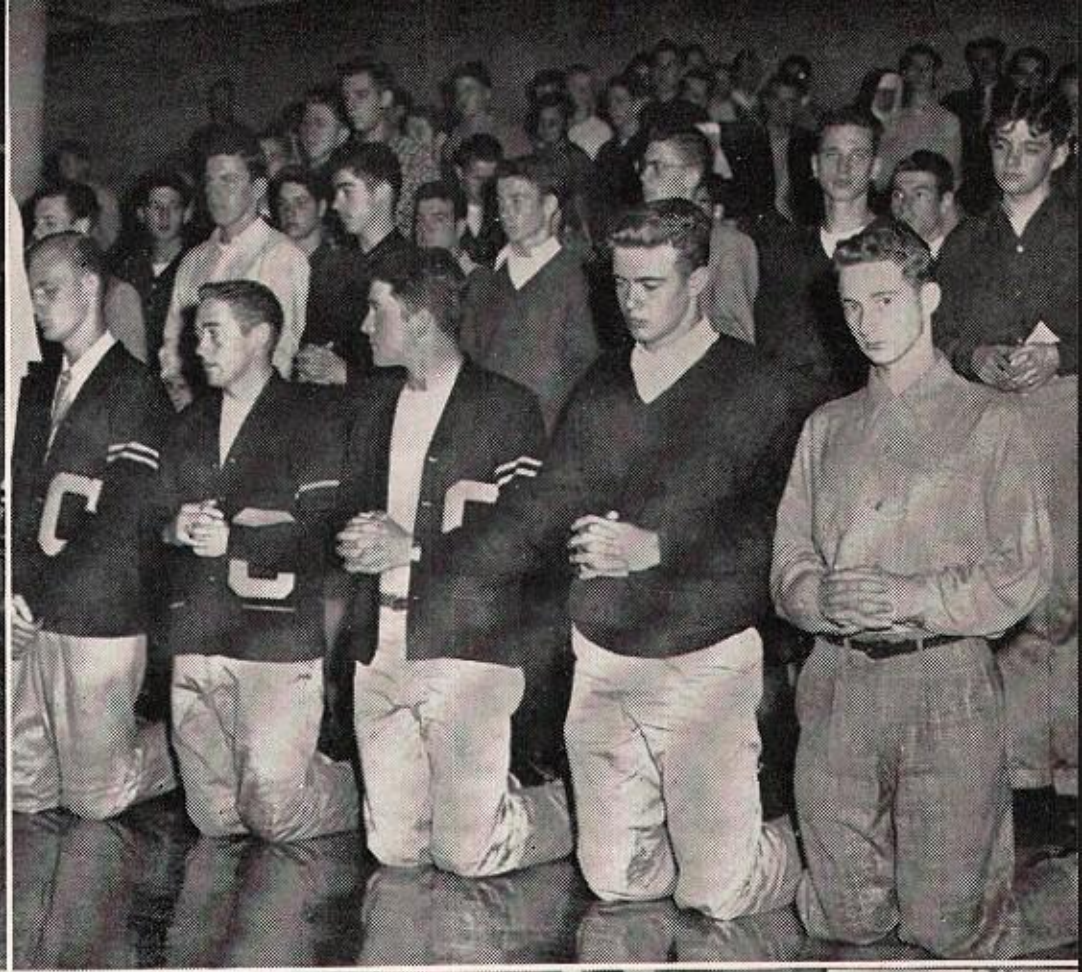
One of the most important days at Central is our annual observance of the Feast of Christ the King. His Grace, the Most Reverend Archbishop, offers Holy Mass with the students.

This year His Grace gave the occasional sermon and Roland Gamroth represented the students in an inspiring address on the meaning of the Feast.

The First Friday of each month, The Commemoration of the Faithful Departed, Retreat Days and weekly Masses all keep us close to our Leader, Chirst the King.

Through our attendance at Holy Mass " we are made sharers in His Divinity who was made a sharer in our humanity." Through the Mass we place our daily lives within the Action of Sacrifice so that our everyday actions may be not too unworthy to be remembered within the Action.



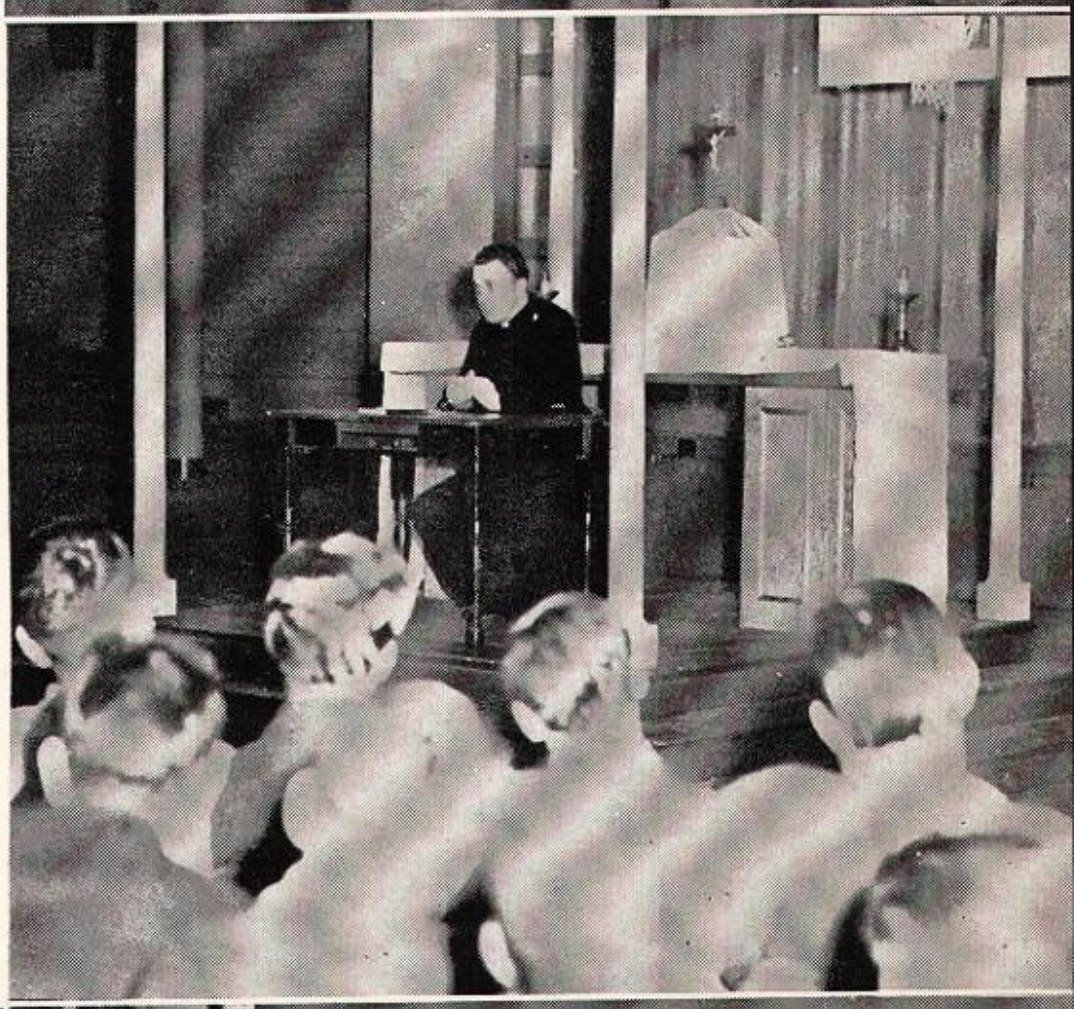


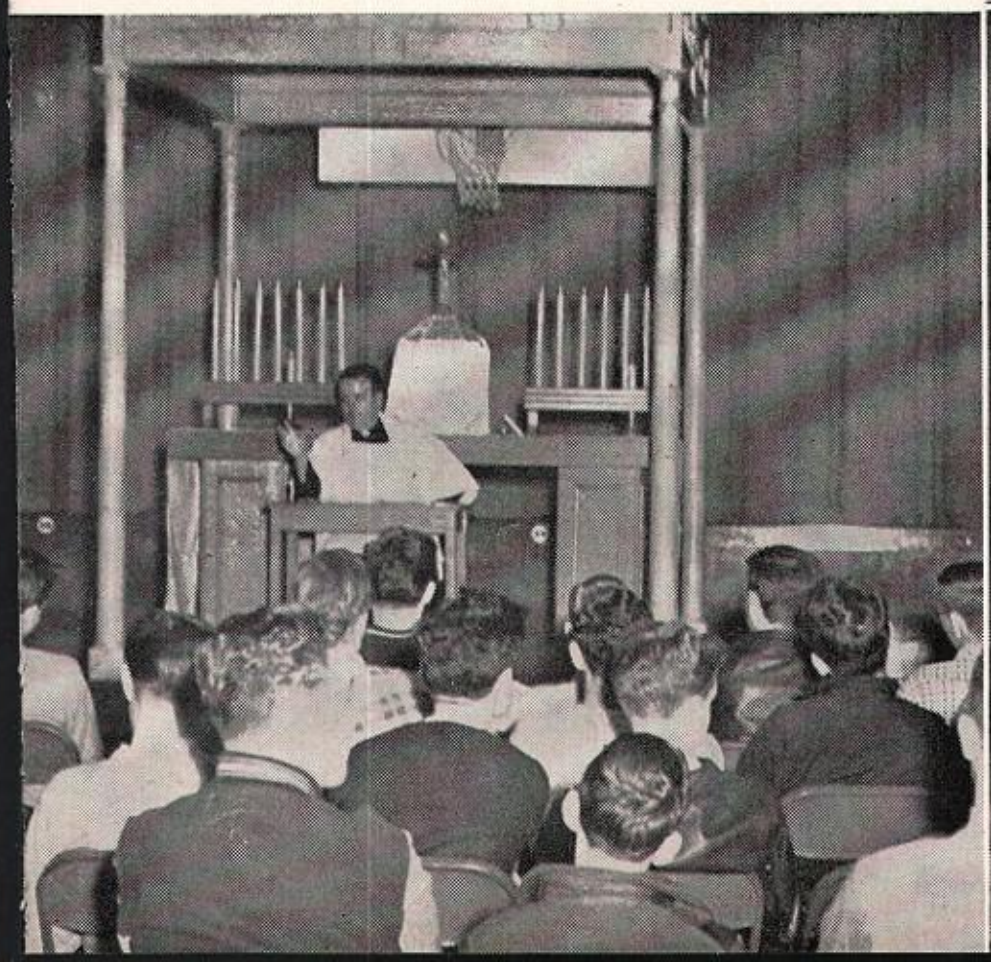
A retreat is essentially a withdrawal from the world for contemplation of the beauty and love of God, coupled with profound adoration of His majestry. During the Holy Season of Lent, we, the students of Central "retreated."

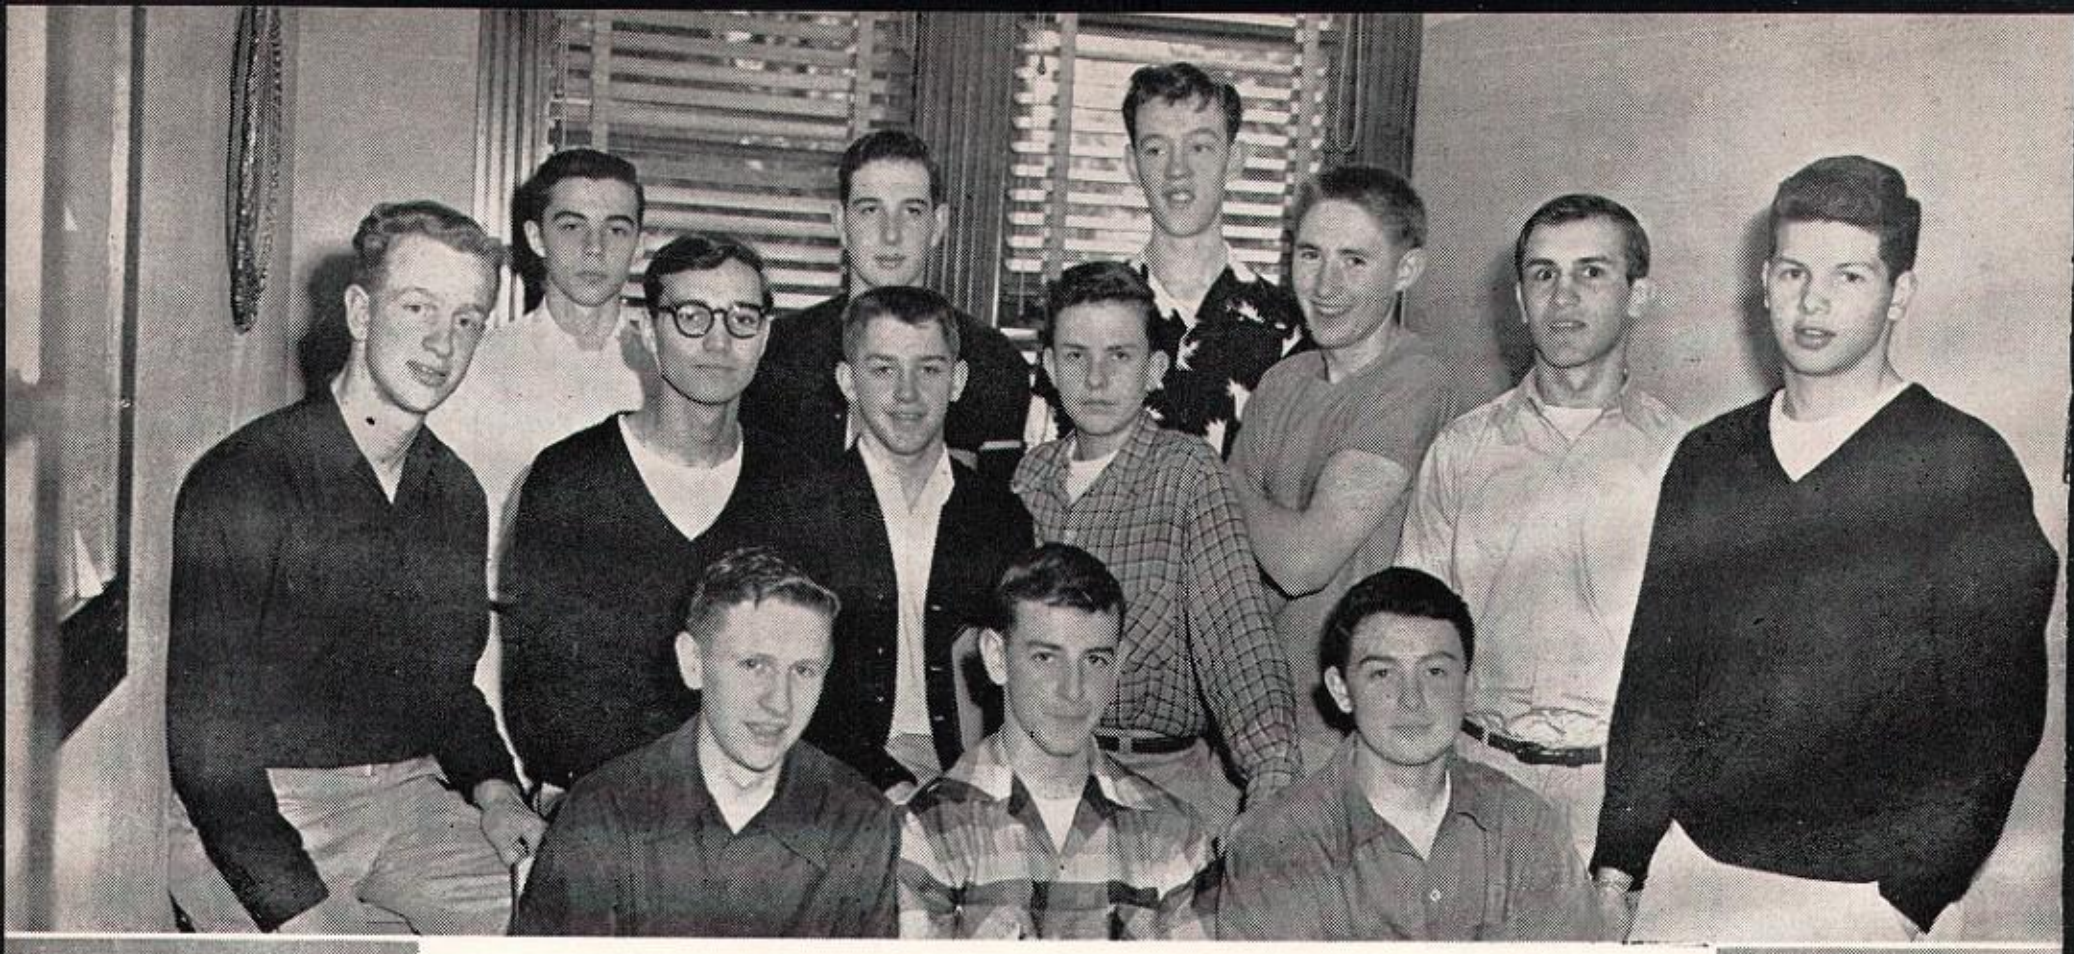
Our retreat masters, Fathers Neuville, Maloney, Carroll and Lair stressed the importance of a true Christian life as members of Christ's Mystical Body.

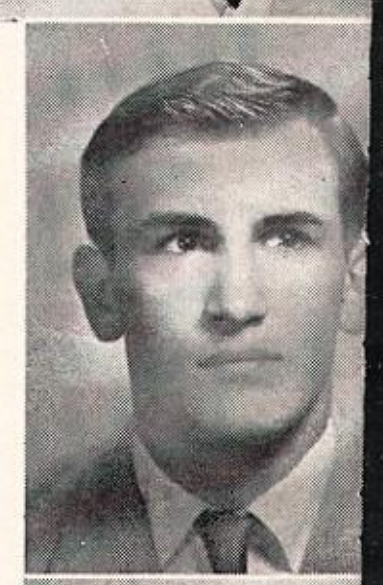
Our retreat days opened with the celebration of the Holy Sacrifice. Holy Mass was followed by breakfast served by the devoted Mothers' Club. The morning and afternoon were taken up by conferences and reading.

This was the Zenith of our year. All other activities prepared for it and all were based on it. May the lessons we have learned stay with us on the Road to Eternity.



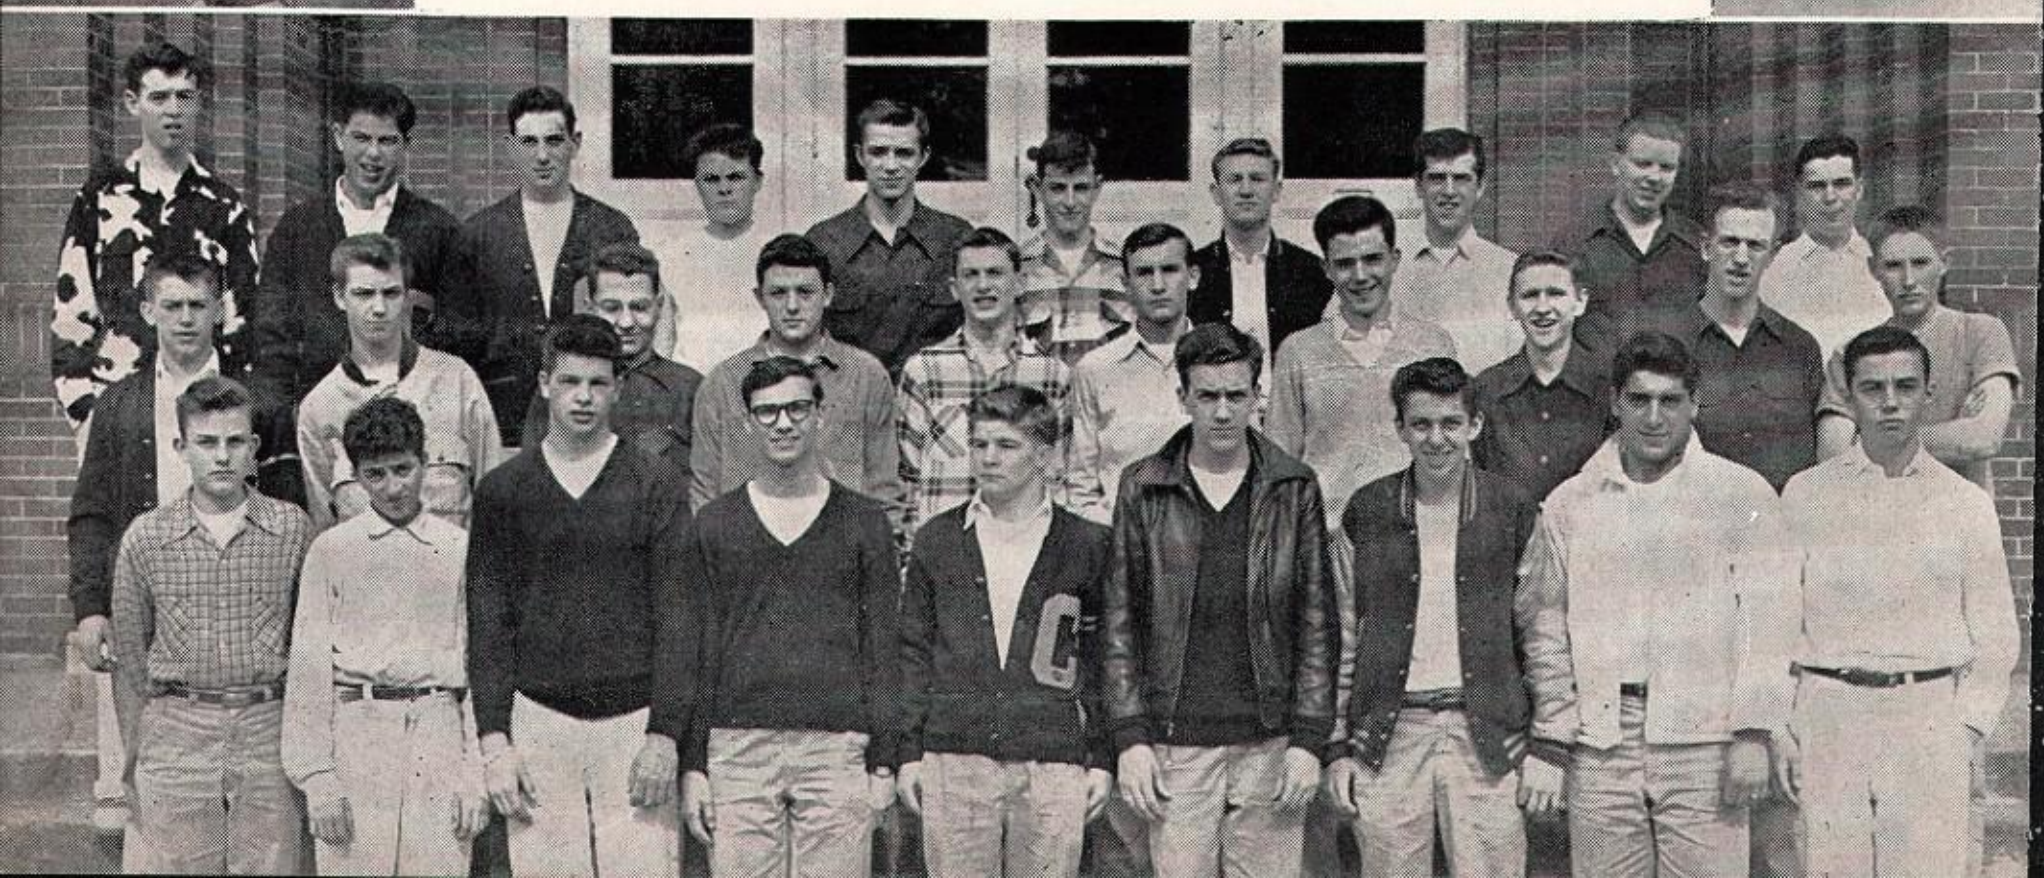


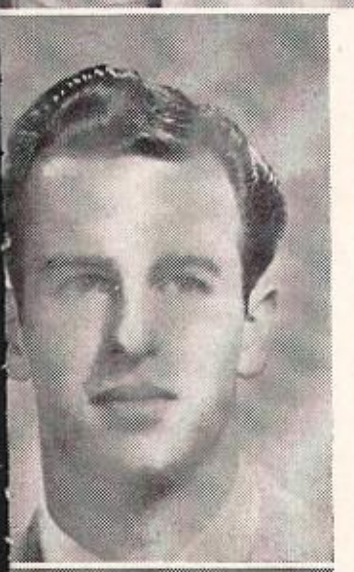


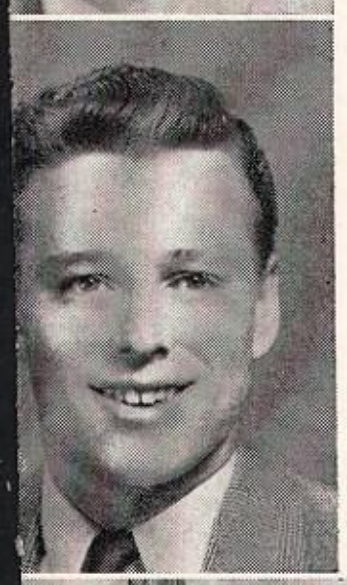


RAMPART STAFF

The Scepter salutes her sister publication "The Rampart", official school newspaper of Central Catholic. With a hardworking staff, and the capable leadership of Father Neuville as advisor, and Ralph Rogers and Joseph Gardner as editors, the Rampart again fulfilled the highest demands of good Catholic journalism.



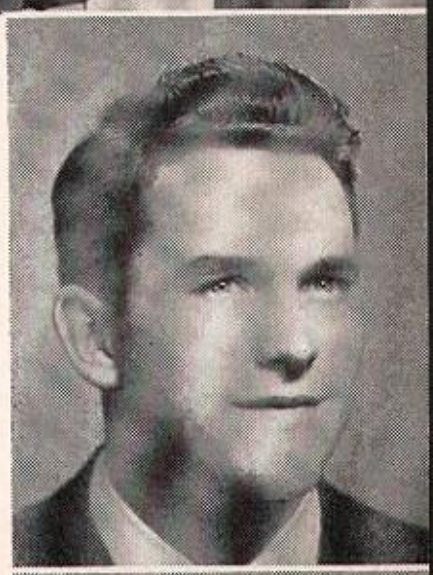


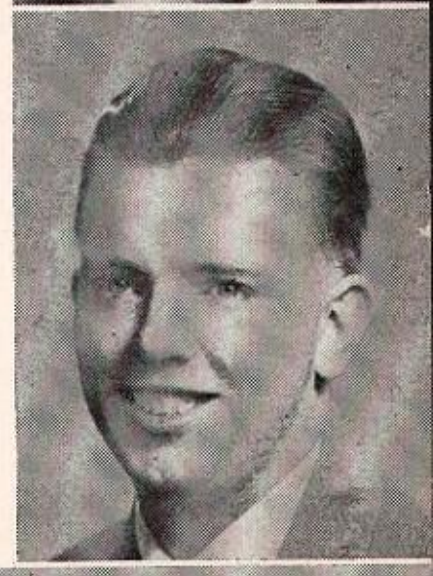


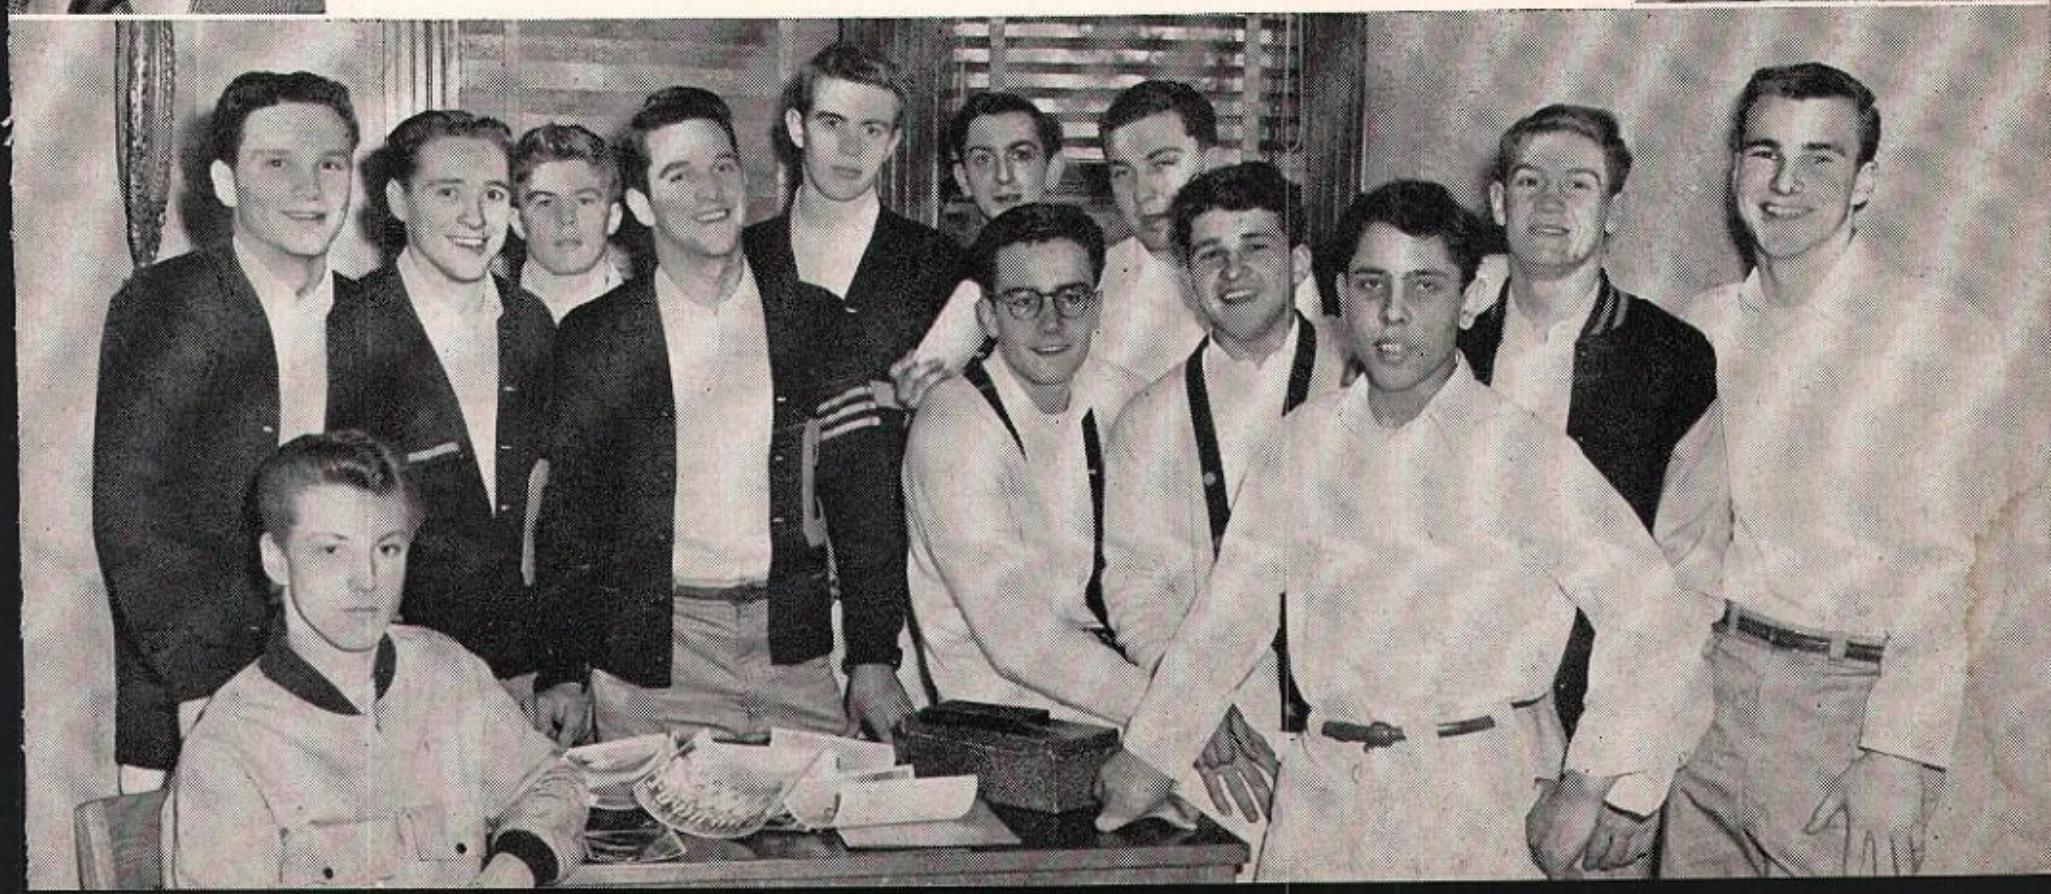
SCEPTER STAFF

Early in October the 1951 Scepter was under way. Under direction of co-editors Warren Carter and Gene Brosterhous, Business Manager Paul Newman and School Photographer Bill Nordstrom, plans were made to produce a yearbook comparable to any that have been edited here at Central Catholic.

The many problems involved in layout, copy work, and various other duties encountered in the compilation of the Scepter were ably managed by the staff who donated their time and talents. The moderator and staff acknowledge the invaluable assistance of Mr. Allan Dunham of Dunham Printing, Mr. Walter Vernstrom of Hicks Chatten Engraving, Mr. Vickerie of Logan-Markham Studio, Mr. Fred Lincoln of Lincoln and Allen Bookbinders.







CALENDAR

SEPTEMBER

Happiest of all, September 5th, were these Juniors and Seniors bubbling with zip for the new school year. Just a collection of arms, ears, and teeth. Now, these and more of the six hundred and eighty-five trod across the stake in making Central history for 1950-51.

OCTOBER

Big event of the year is always the Feast of Christ The King. Patron of the school, His Grace, Archbishop Howard, always helps the students celebrate the Feast with a Pontifical High Mass. Frank Bastasch is pictured receiving honors at the afternoon assembly.

NOVEMBER

DECEMBER

By December, Father Juliano's Dramatic Club was ready to show its wares. Stephen Vincent Benet's "A Child is Born" shown in the picture was one of the powerful trio featured at the Christmas performance. Audience sat around the stage in the middle of the auditorium.

JANUARY

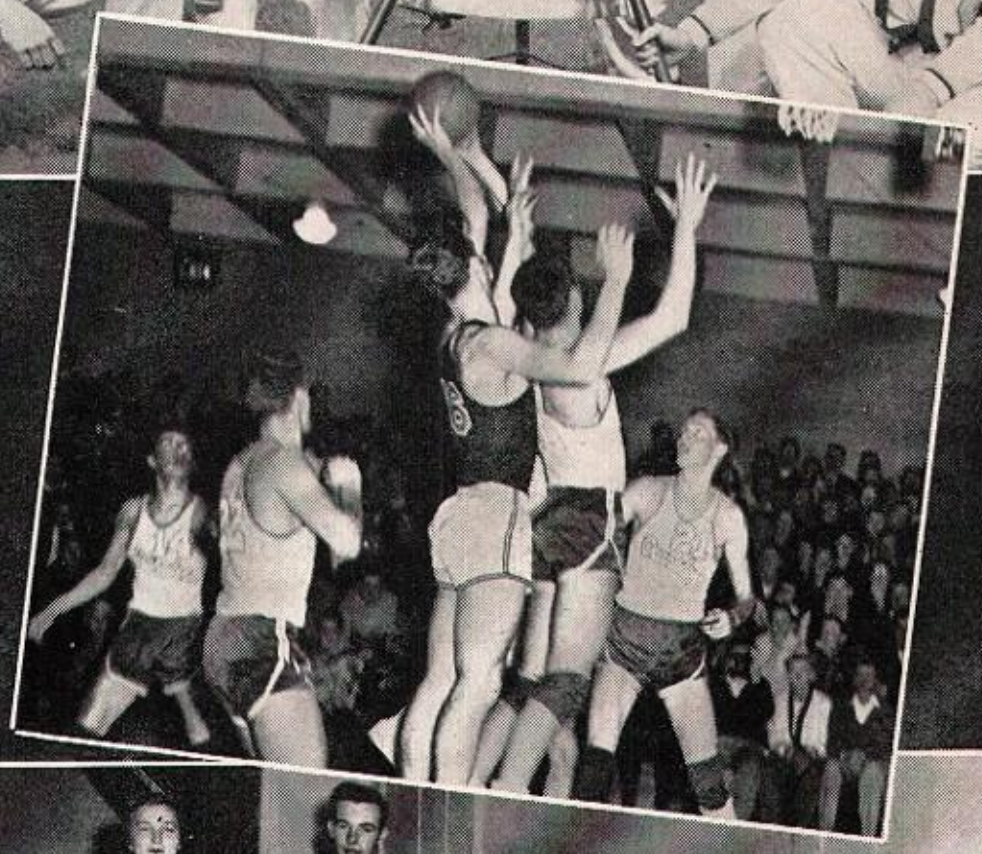
We don't know whether the ball ever went through the hoop on the wall, but we do know the Junior Sport Dance scored as a popular event in the calendar. Tabbed "Bucketball', the dance followed the Columbia-Central basketball fracas.

FEBRUARY

While the Rams were in torrid pursuit of the District Crown, the Monogram Club added a Victory Bell to our traditions. After each winning game, the bell tolls off the number of wins for the year.

MARCH

Our Rams rambled through District 13 Tournament and on to Eugene. There a team that had shot .420% all year, shot only .230% against Jeff. Jeff was called the Champ but to us our Rams are still great Champs.

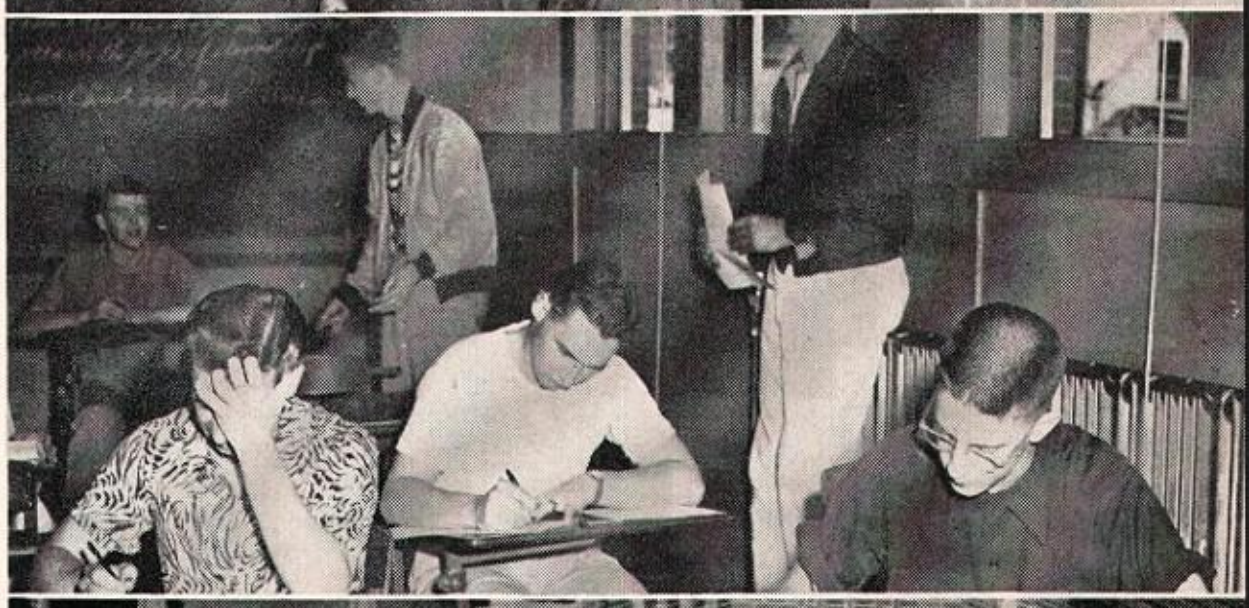


APRIL

With the close of Lent, the social season started anew. The Senior Prom held at the Sunken Ballroom was the largest light on the social horizon, for Joe Central and his date.

MAY

The end of May—the end of book reports—the end of Caesar—the end of H_2SO_4—the end of me at Central—All these necessarily prefaced by exams—"Why didn't I study?"



JUNE

Friday the 4th marked the end of Central's 12th year. The doors on Stark Street opened to about 100 grads; "They learned their lessons, their teachers beat them well."

The Catholic Inter-School Council in its seven years of work has become one of the finest influences for good relationship between our Catholic schools. The delegates from the seven member schools meet monthly to plan and discuss the various religious, cultural and social events which are prepared jointly.

Highlights of the year's activities included the Holy Hour, barn dance, the Mardi Gras, a choral and a one-act play festival, a radio program and the Lenten discussion series.

INTER-CLUB COUNCIL

Central's Inter-Club Council, under the directorship of the Student Body Vice President, Jim Neidermeyer, is a strong force in consolidating the plans of the various clubs at Central.

Meetings are held twice a month. Aids and helps to assist various clubs are discussed, and problems of planning and membership are worked on by this group. Each club selects its own delegate to the Council.

TALENT SHOW

One of the major attractions sponsored by the Inter-School Council this year was the Talent Show. Over 900 students and adults were in the gym to applaud their favorite acts and actors the evening of Sunday, November 5.

Although this was the first all-schools talent show, Central students demonstrated their experienced abilities to walk off with two first prizes, one third prize and the sweepstakes award. Joe Vieira took first place in the soloist division; the Three Be-Bops, John Foster, Jerry Dahlheim and Mick O'Flaherty, won first place in miscellaneous; and Rod Peloquin picked his way to a third spot among instrumentalits.

So great was the enthusiasm at this first Talent Show that it is planned to be an annual affair.

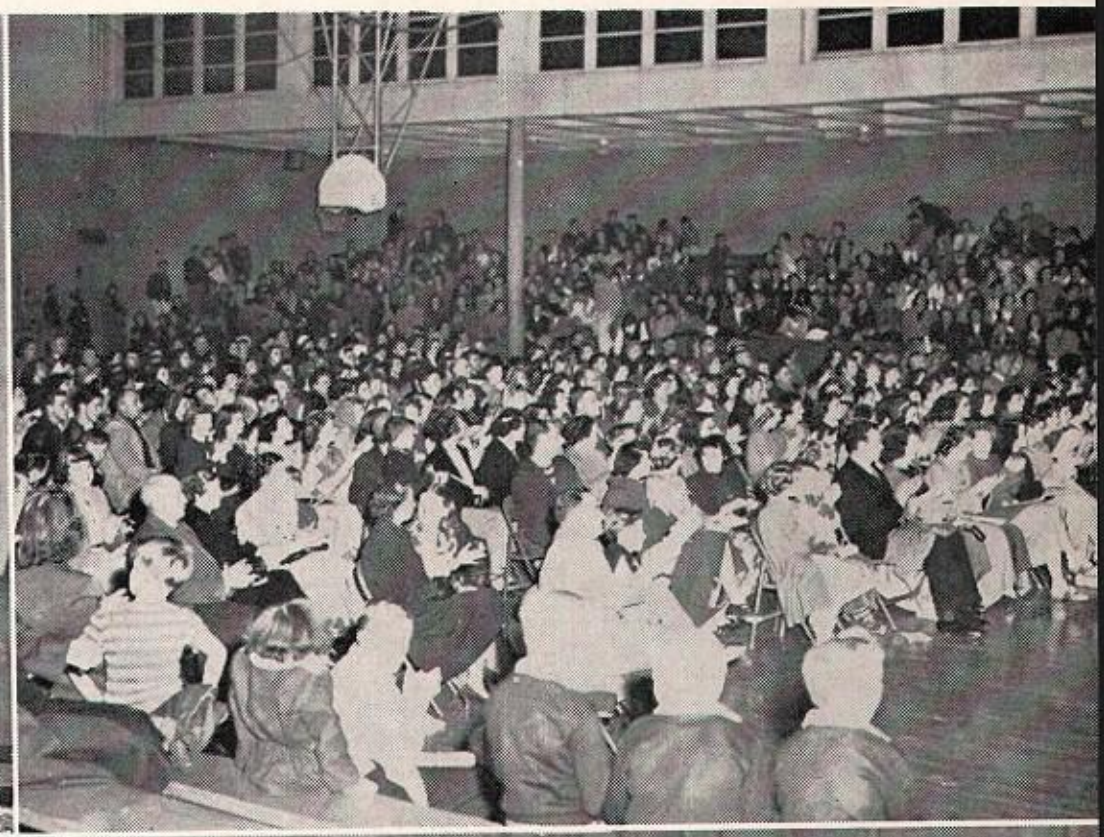
Bottom: Joe Vieira accepts first prize envelope from Father Lair. Four girls from St. Mary's of the Valley go through the steps of the "Old Man's Dance."



SENIOR PROM

The annual Senior Prom was held on April thriteenth under the subdued lights of the Sunken Ballroom at the Masonic Temple. The class of "51" chose "Be My Love" as their theme. The centerpiece, depicting a pastoral scene, accentuated the Spring season. An added touch of color to the various hues of formal gowns were the many white dinner-jackets sported by the Seniors. The ever-popular Jerry Van Hoomissen's orchestra provided music for the gala evening.

Patrons and patronesses were Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Scarff, Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Newman, Mr. and Mrs. R. Mulder, Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Marshall, Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Maloney.

Perennially it's the most successful and wholesome social event of the year for all the Catholic high school students of Portland. The Mardi Gras on February 5 was again held at Cenral. Almost 1200 students swarmed the halls, the cafeteria, and the gym to enjoy the evenings fun and entertainment.

Under the direction of the Inter-School Council and the supervision of Father Lair there was a fifty-minute "Fairyland" stage program, a dozen booths and special attractions, a sideshow, and dancing. Proceeds of the affair were presented to the Archbishop to promote Newman Club work in the Archdiocese.

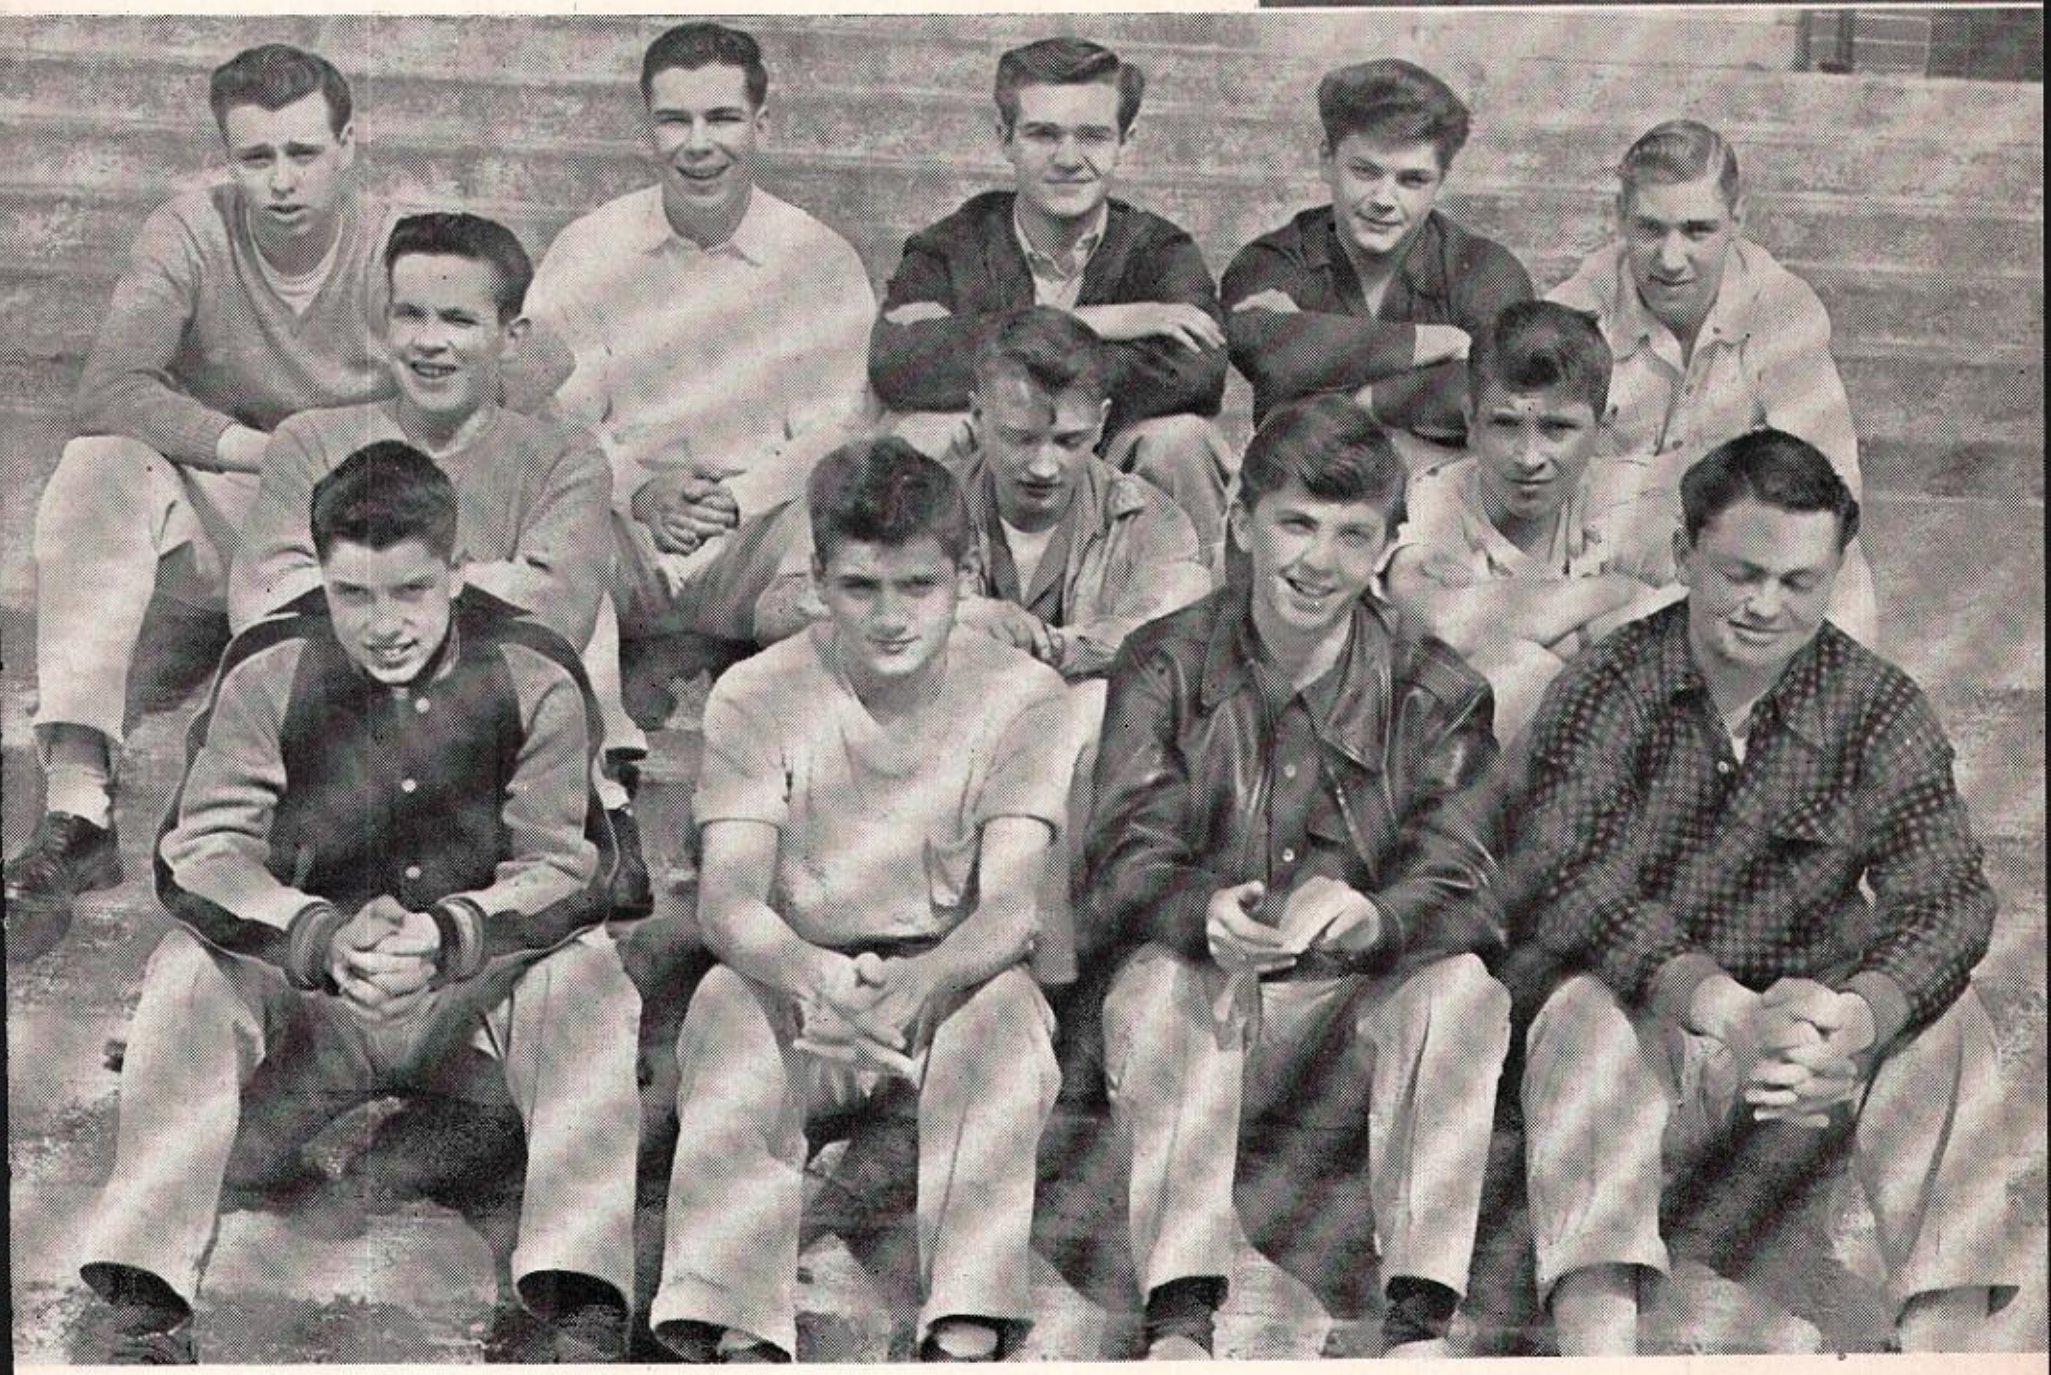
Third row: J. Kares, H. Marine, L. Niemeyer, F. Davis, J. Nichols, D. Monan, J. Milan, T. Palermini, D. Graham.

Keeping Central supplied with good singing is one of the major ambitions of the Central Gee Club. The group, twenty-eight in number, has appeared at all Convocations this past year, not to mention the Christmas program, Mother's and Dad's affairs, and has furnished the proper liturgical music for Student Masses.

BAND

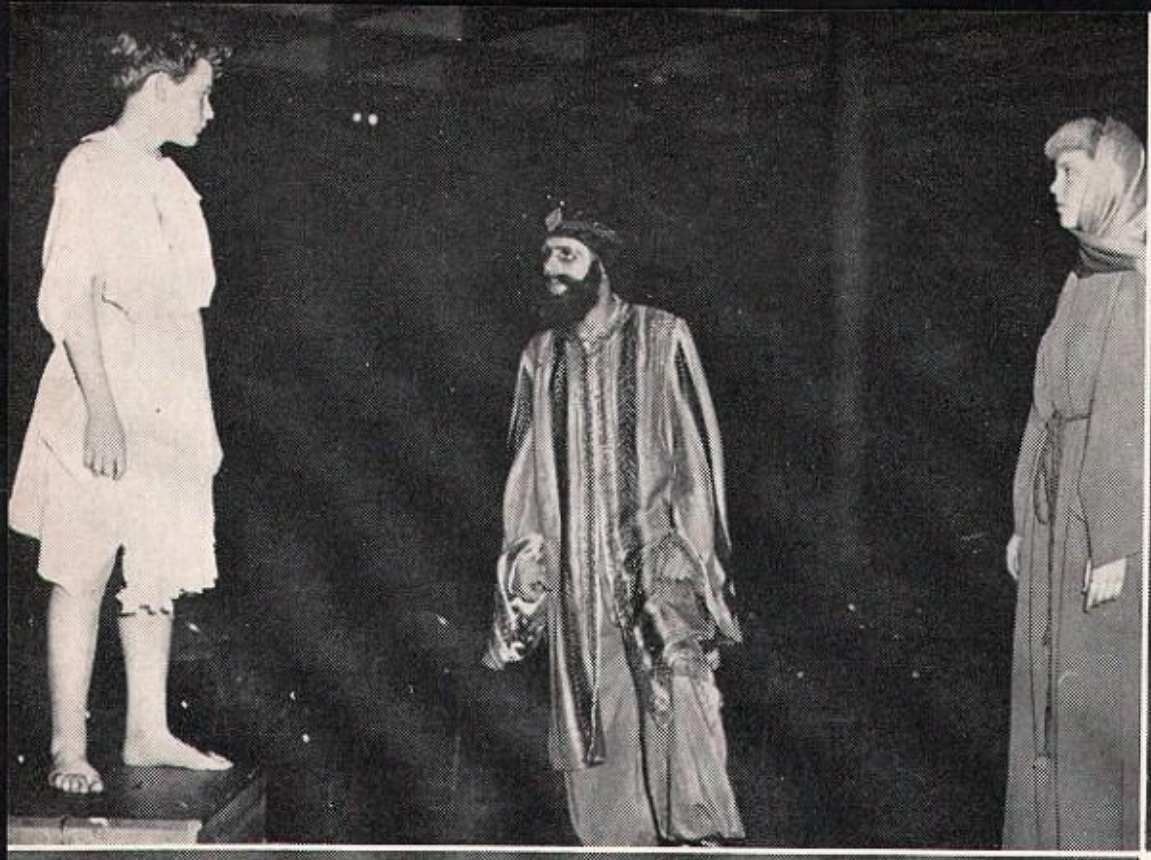


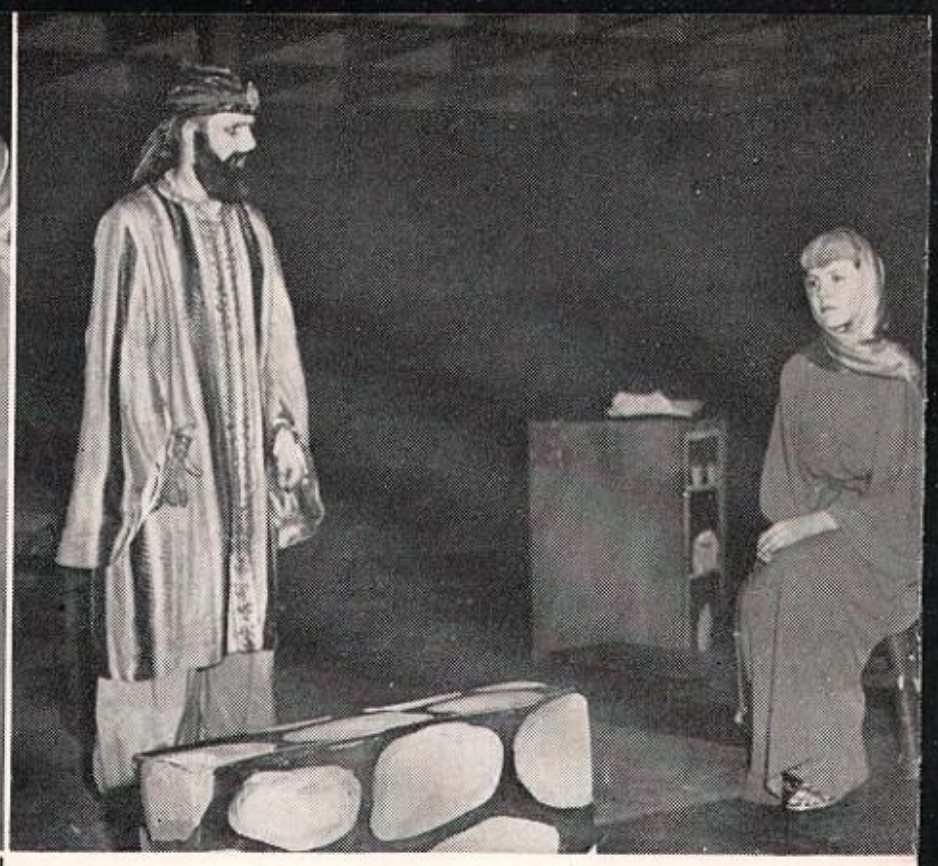
1st Row: Marriman, Rivord, Provancher, Collette.

2nd Row: Bergeron, Lowitt, D. Meyer
3rd Row: Brosterhaus, Misner, Guild, Sheppard, Bedard.

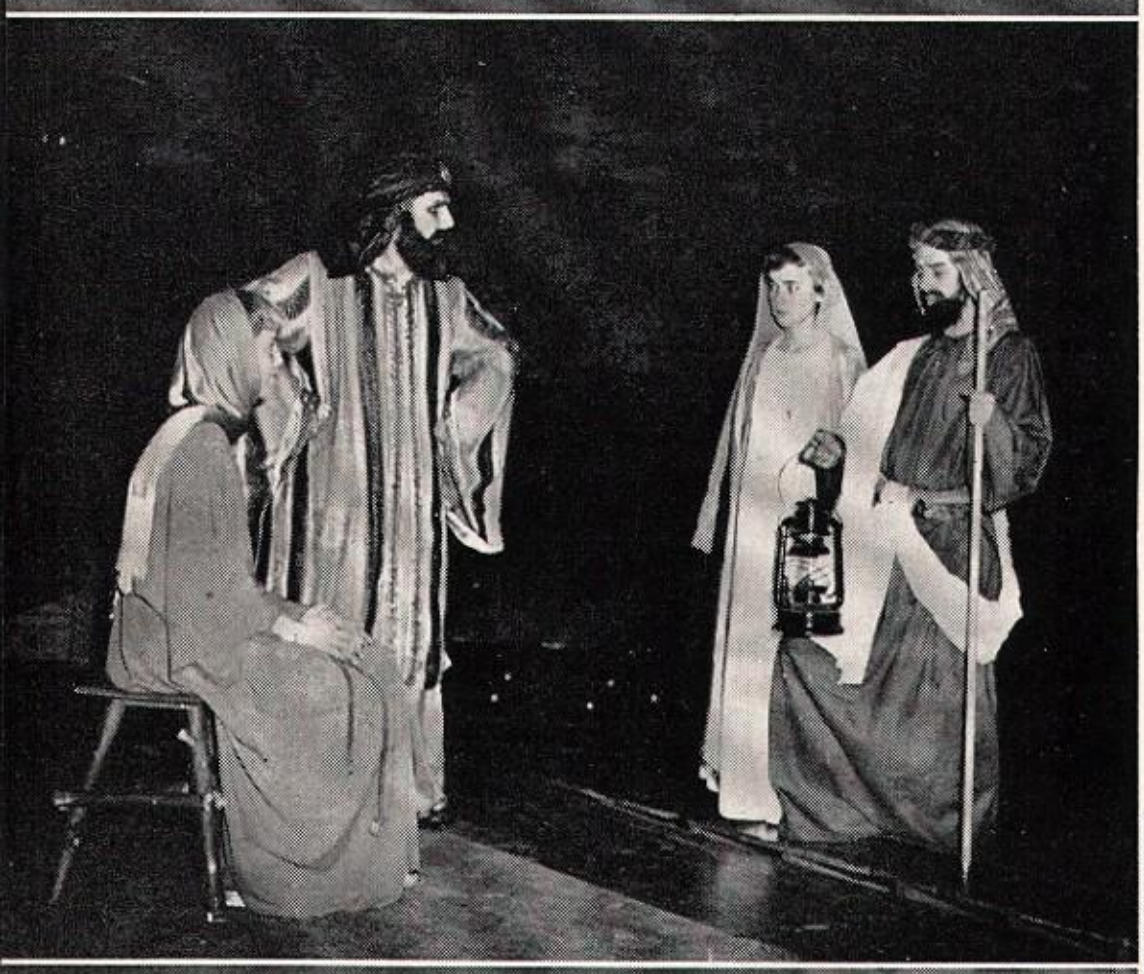
Graduation and class schedules took such heavy toll of musicians during the year that the Band has not been featured on many occasions. Father Dooley as director, faced a task of building a new band whose performances will delight the student body of the coming year.

Centralites with a real desire and talent for music have their opportunity to develop their abilities. Central hopes that these boys whose efforts have been heard reverberating from the room on 24th and Pine will blossom forth and will encourage others to participate in Band activities.





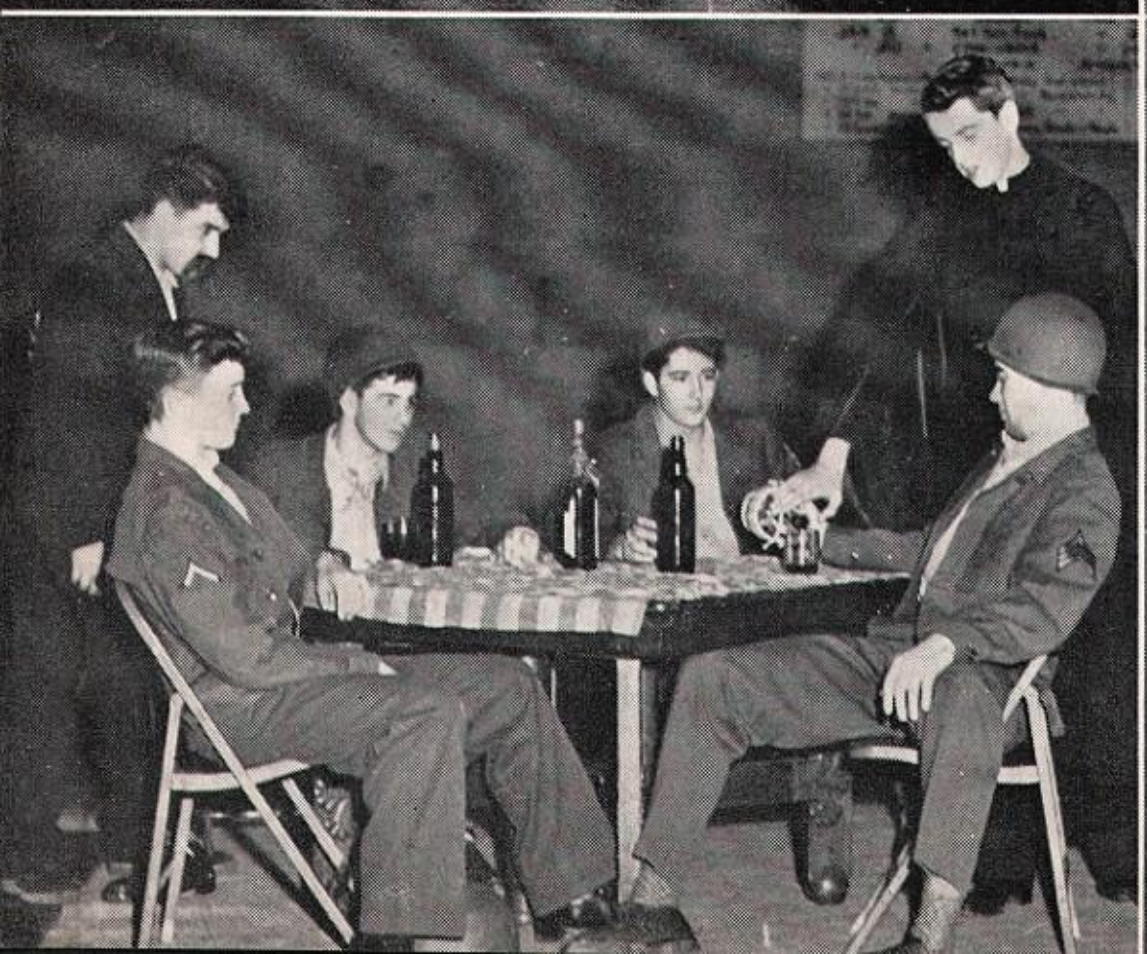
DRAMA



Beginning their Sixth Season of dramatic activity the Central Players presented Richard Breen's drama of Communism. THE DREAMSLAYERS, at the Second One-Act Play Festival held at St. Mary's Academy in Portland. The play received superior rating and Lew Zilka won the best actor award for the role of Julian Earth.

The Players inaugurated Theatre-in-the-Round at Central with the presentation of A Christmas Triology—three on—act plays given in the center of the gym floor in arena style—William Sawyer Goodman's DUST OF THE ROAD, CAESAR'S DOLL by Frank Dillon, and a verse-drama by Stephen Vincent Bene, A CHILD IS BORN.

Mr. Clemtent May, noted character-actor, entertained the students in assembly with portrayals from the famous works of Charles Dickens.



DRAMA

THE TAMING OF THE SHREW

On May 13, 14, 15 the Central Players presented as the final offering for the 1950-51 season Wiliam Shakespeare's farce in two acts, The Taming of the Shrew, the first Shakespearian production at Central. Heading a cast of thirty were James Nichols as Petruchio, the wife-tamer and Beverly Zumwalt of St. Mary's Academy as Katherine, the shrew. Others in the cast included Pat Kremer as Bianca, James Larpenteur as Lucentio, Frank Joseph as Baptista, Frank Bastasch as Biandello, Richard Wheeler as Tranio, Dan Duffy as Christopher Sly, Don Durand as the Lord, Allen Giacherro as Gremio, Paul Weller as Hortensio, Robert Hanigan as Grumio, Henri Arata as the Pedant, James Reed as Vincentio, Joan Hanson as the Widow and several others.

At Central the Catholic concept of the place of the "physical" in education is embodied in a well-rounded program of Physical Education.

Two formal classes a week for four years, daily noon-time intramurals, plus a year-round interscholastic sports schedule give each student here the fullest opportunity to equip himself physically for Catholic manhood.

The aim of Central is to help each student to realize the true Catholic philosophy of Physical Education — that the body is the temporary house and helpmate of the soul in the work of Eternal Salvation.

The defending Dist. 7 Champion "Rams" started the season with nine returning lettermen. Two of these were regulars on the '49 squad. Considering the facts that the team played one of the toughest schedules in "Ram" history, and that '49 graduation hit the squad very hard, the season was most successful.

The '50 squad enjoyed victories over four opponents and looked good losing to two others. The only sad game of the season occurred when Astoria, one of the two district opponents, dethroned the "Rams" at the Central field.

Jack Reverman was voted the most valuable player and Gene Regimbal was chosen the outstanding lineman. Jack, an outstanding back, also earned a berth on the Portland squad for the '51 Shrine All-Star Football game.

BASKETBALL

This year the "Rams" enjoyed one of the finest seasons in the history of Central Catholic as they rolled to 26 wins and 3 losses, playing the best the State had to offer.

In early season play the "Rams" won 20-30 Club Invitational Tournament at Klamath Falls, defeating Mac Hi, Reno, and Klamath Falls.

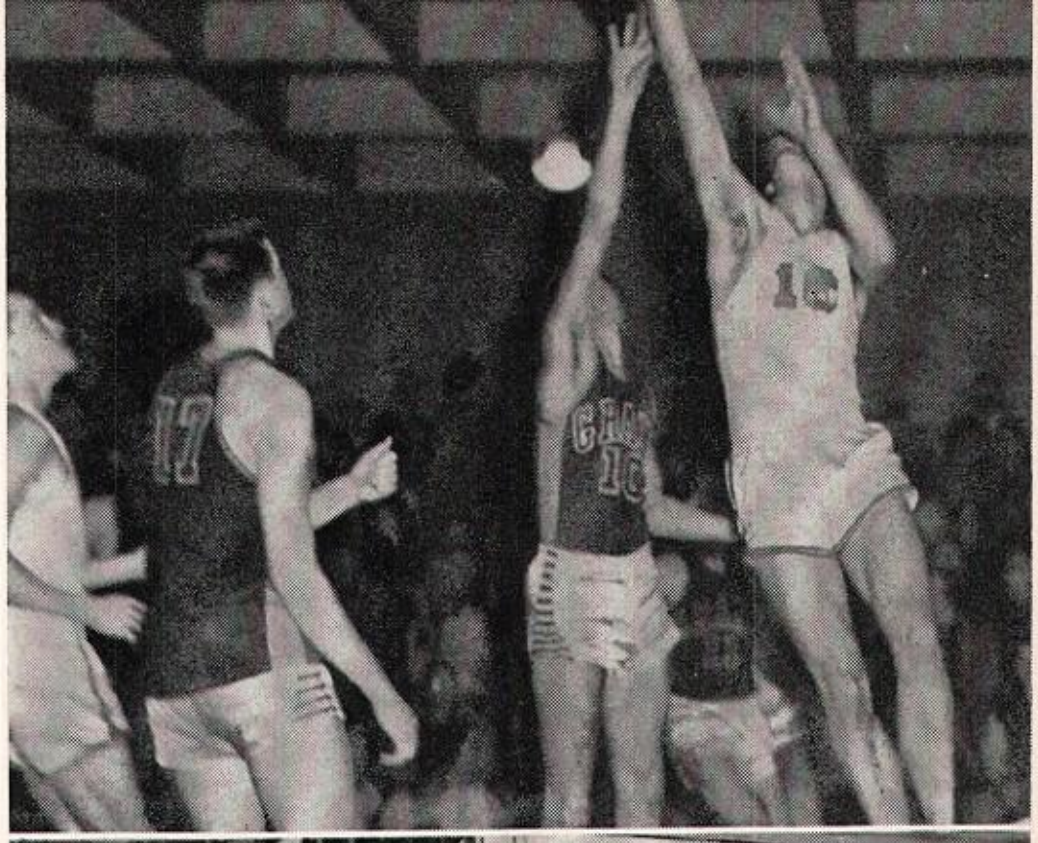
Highlight of midseason play was the win over Salem's defending champs on the "Viking" home floor before an overflowing crowd.

Central won the District 13 title for the 3rd straight year with wins over Park Rose, Concordia, and Gresham.

In the State Tournament at Eugene, the "Rams" lost a heartbreaker to Jefferson by one point, but went on to win the consolation bracket to bring home the fifth place trophy.

Bob Altenhofen repeated as an "All-Stater' for the second consecutive year.

Last season Central played two overtime periods against Grant, splitting the series. This year it started out the same with Central winning an overtime tilt at Grant. At Central, however, the "Rams" had full control, winning easily 56-38.



Camera Shy? Not these "Rams" as they board the train for Klamath Falls and the 20-30 Club Tournament. The smiles evidently denoted confidence as Central came through with the first place trophy, defeating Klamath Falls the final night 58-46.

Central and Columbia Prep renewed an old rivalry with the Ambrose Cronin Memorial trophy at stake. The "Rams" Marshall and the "Crusader's" Robertson go after a jump ball in the first game of this year's series. The "Rams" won a year's possession of the Cronin trophy with two straight wins over Prep.

THE "RAMS" defending their Eastern Independent District Championship won seven games but dropped two. The loss of these crucial games gave the Milwaukie Mustangs the Pennent and a trip to Albany. The Central team also defeated Parkrose twice, Vancouver twice and lost one to Vancouver in non-league games. Preseason practice games were lost to Washington and Grant of the Portland City League.

The loss of Seniors Palermini, Dockins, Erceg and Regimbal will be keenly felt.

SKIING

The Dartmouth ski trophy which had been in our possession for two seasons was not retained this year. The annual tournament, which was held on April 7, wasn't won by the favorites, but was taken by a new entry, Cleveland High School. However, the members of the ski team look forward to a better and more prosperous year in 1951.
